TUESDAY 9 JUNE		PALLADIUM THEATER
0630 – 0800	Registration
0800 – 0830	Welcome and Opening Remarks
0830 – 0915	Keynote Address Mr. Stephen Hayes, President and CEO, The Corporate Council on Africa
0915 – 0930	Networking Break
0930 – 1100	Maritime Security Facilitated by: CAPT John Ries, NAVAFA Director of Africa Engagement Commander U.S. Naval Forces Africa (NAVAF), in conjunction with U.S. Africa Command, and international allies and partners conducts a continuum of training, exercises, and operations to include Africa Partnership Station (APS), the EXPRESS series exercises, and Africa Maritime Law Enforcement Partnership program (AMLEP) through periodic ship deployments, engagements, planning conferences, and mobile training teams. These efforts facilitate increased maritime security in African territorial waters and Exclusive Economic Zones (EEZ) by targeting piracy, illegal fishing, and illicit trafficking while building partner nation capacity to address these challenges in the future.
1100 – 1115	Networking Break
1115 – 1230	“PPP in Operations: A Perspective from Liberia” Facilitated by: Mr. David Knapp, USARAF Director of Civil Military Operations Division U.S. Army Africa (USARAF) was the initial headquarters deployed to Liberia in September 2014 combating the spread of Ebola. During the first 60 days, they discovered operational requirements for land, commodities, and other logistics was critical to setting the environment in support of the eventual deployment of over 3,000 US personnel. This required the coordinated support of the local business community. USARAF facilitated filling their requirements by partnering with businesses in Liberia.
1230 – 1345	Networking Break / Lunch
1345 – 1430	Operational Energy Facilitated by: Mr. Jeffrey Andrews, Chief of Environmental Security &amp; Mr. Joseph Sinicope, Florida International University’s Applied Research Scientist and Project Manager Operational Energy is a significant constraint with our Partner Nation militaries in the USAFRICOM AOR and seriously degrades their capacity to effectively execute critical mission sets, resulting in a security concern. The intent of this discussion is to explore opportunities to introduce an operational energy component into our engagement activities with Partner Nations in the execution of the Theater Security Cooperation (TSC) strategy. This event provides an opportunity for us to share knowledge and exchange best practices promoting cooperation and collaboration for the common purpose of addressing infrastructure, environment, and energy requirements associated with military installations and military missions in Africa. The goals of an Operational Energy Program are to: Ensure energy is not an operational constraint; Improve energy efficiency at military installations; Reduce energy costs to militaries; Enhancing operational readiness; and Aiding in advancing military capabilities.
1430 – 1515	IT Infrastructure: “Expanding and Improving Capacity” Facilitated by: Lt. Col. Whitney McCloud, AFRICOM Chief of Engagements and Exercises USAFRICOM Command, Control, Communications, & Computer Systems (C4S) Engagements and Exercise Branch will familiarize attendees with: AFRICOM’s cyber engagement program, its work with the African Union, its link-enabling activities via its capstone event, Africa Endeavor, and its strategy for future defense institutional building. The end-goal is to provide a window into ACJ6 efforts as to facilitate a “whole of government” approach to cyber maturity development on Africa in order to support humanitarian assistance, disaster relief and peace keeping missions.
1515 – 1530	Networking Break
1530 – 1700	Partnering Against Illicit Activities Facilitated by: Mr. Zachary Scott-Singley, AFRICOM Chief of Counter Threat Finance U.S. Africa Command Counter Threat Finance (CTF) Branch conducts activities in support of U.S. Government agencies and/or partner nations in order to disrupt, deny, destroy, or defeat finance systems and networks used to support terrorist activities, narcotics trafficking and other transnational organized criminal networks that threaten U.S. interests. This discussion will attempt to cover coordination in support of inter-agency partners / law enforcement partners. Identification of key African partners in order to facilitate sharing of financial information to combat money laundering, terrorism, narcotics movement, and transnational organized crime. Additionally, we will discuss the expansion of capacity building efforts with willing and capable African partners to support new and existing Financial Investigative Units.

WEDNESDAY 10 JUNE		PALLADIUM THEATER
0700 – 0800	Registration
0800 – 0815	Opening Remarks
0815 – 0945	Women, Peace, and Security (WPS)  Facilitated by: COL Wesley MacMullen, AFRICOM Deputy Director for Strategic Outreach &amp; Mrs. Heather Bush, AFRICOM WPS Specialist USAFRICOM's Women, Peace, and Security (WPS) initiative is focused on three primary lines of effort which are peace keeping operations, gender mainstreaming, and staff education/awareness. Rather than emphasize stand-alone events that simply "check the box", the command integrates WPS concepts into existing operations, exercises, plans, and engagements. Examples of concepts include scenarios to counter Conflict-Related Sexual Violence for use in training/exercises, gender mainstreaming seminars in Africa focusing on best practices/lessons learned, and WPS education activities for USAFRICOM staff/leadership.
0945 – 1000	Networking Break
1000 – 1045	African Medical Security  Facilitated by: Lt. Col. J. Michael Cline, AFAFRICA Chief of Global Health Engagement Headquarters U.S. Air Forces Europe-Africa will facilitate a discussion on the following African medical infrastructure topics: Partnerships that promote African role 2 level medical security, infrastructure, and medical care; Partnerships to increase and sustain African Medical Evacuation (MEDEVAC) capabilities by air and ground (to include alternate runways); Ensuring safe blood, oxygen concentrators, and Telemedicine capabilities for remote locations; and the requirements to sustain rural role 2 like facilities to support disaster response and medical security.
1045 – 1130	Combating Food Insecurity  Facilitated by: Dr. Rockefeller P. Herisse, Ph.D., USAID/Guinea-Sierra Leone A three-pronged strategy is applied by the USG to combat food insecurity. USAID address acute food insecurity throughout Africa by aligning the resources of the USG to complement the commitment expressed by Host Nations and leveraging the private sector. The partnership approach is carried out via the 24-agency Feed the Future initiative lead by USAID for agricultural development while applying lessons from the Green Revolution with particular attention to nutrition. The USAID Office for Disaster Assistance and the Food for Peace Program address food insecurity needs in emergency situations like countries affected by natural (i.e. drought, famine, etc.) or other disasters (i.e. Ebola Virus Disease epidemic) through a combination of cash, vouchers, and in-kind food assistance, as appropriate and feasible. Lastly, the USG partners with the World Food Program and other local institutions to provide food aid to vulnerable populations in schools, camps, and shelters to offset major crises linked to availability of food.
1245 – 1415	Corporate Social Responsibility  Facilitated by: Mr. David Baker, AFRICOM Academic Coordinator; Honorable Barbara Serwaa Asamoah, Deputy Minister for Lands and Natural Resources for Ghana; &amp; Mr. Felix Datson, Tullow Oil Representative Extractive industries (oil, gas, mining) in Africa present particular challenges in security sector cooperation as they have significant economic, social, and ecological disruptions. As foreign direct investment continues to fuel rapid economic growth throughout the continent, the best-practices of managing these tensions involves a private-sector led whole-of-security sector response focusing on risk-mitigation and community relations. This session will explore lessons-learned from security-partnerships between the federal, local, private sector and international security actors with a case-study of Ghana.
1415 – 1430	Networking Break
1430 – 1600	Civil-Mil Ops Cultural Property Protection (CPP)  Facilitated by: LTC Robert Farmer, AFRICOM Chief of Public Private Partnership; Dr. Joris Kila, Ph.D., Culture Heritage; Dr. Curtis Sandberg, Senior Vice President for Arts and Cultural Programs Executive Director for Meridian Center for Cultural Diplomacy; &amp; Mr. John Melkon, U.S. Military Academy (USMA) Center for the Study of Civil – Military Operations This panel will discuss methods to educate and mitigate the willful destruction of cultural and historical items of a heritage in order to suppress or eradicate a segment of the population; as well as, the illicit plundering and profit from selling cultural items of unique and iconic value to finance illegal activities and armed groups.

YOUR GO TO RESOURCE FOR DEFENSE OPPORTUNITIES

Virginia Economic Development Partnership is proud to support the AFRICOM Partnership Forum.

VEDP, and Virginia's defense industry, stands ready to assist AFRICOM in meeting its mandates. In light of today's increasing threats and decreasing resources, collaborating with Virginia's companies is a logical solution. Virginia's defense companies often times already have assets throughout the AFRICOM AOR that components can tap into on an as-needed basis, thereby maximizing resources and providing agile response. Virginia is home to 19 Commands with three or four star leadership and remains the top state in the U.S. for prime contracts. Whatever your component's needs, Virginia is home to the companies that have the solutions, materiel, and resources to train, equip and protect our war fighters.

Joining VEDP at AFRICOM's Partnership Forum are these Virginia companies:

ACI Solutions*	Imperatis*
Applied Memetics LLC*	Leonie Group
AS Global*	LMI
Datron World Communications, Inc.*	MAG DS
Defense International	Northern Defense Industries
DRS Technologies	New Century US
Engility	ProGlobalPartners
Erickson*	Technologists, Inc.
Hankins & Anderson, Inc.	UXB International, Inc.*
HDT Expeditionary Systems, Inc.	XTAR*

* Exhibiting in the Expo on June 11th, please come visit their booths.

If your component has a specific need and would like to consider collaborating with VEDP and tapping into Virginia's defense industry resources, contact Theodora von Hohenstaufen Noll, Defense Initiative Manager by email at tvhn@yesvirginia.org.
